

The XXXIV International School of Hydraulics, 11-14 May 2015, Żelechów, Poland

Andrea MARION

Prof. Andrea Marion, leader of the E-FluMe (Environmental Fluid Mechanics) Group at the University of Padova, he was trained at the University of Padua, UC Berkeley and Caltech (M.S. Environ. Eng. Sc.); Visiting Professor at Drexel University (US) and at UC Santa Barbara; Visiting Scientist at NIWA (NZ) and at the Institute of Geophysics of the Polish Academy of Science; EU research fellow at HR Wallingford (UK) and at Delft Hydraulics (NL); Fellow of the Leibniz-Institute of Freshwater Ecology and Inland Fisheries (IGB). AE of the J. of Hydraulic Eng. (ASCE) from 2008 to 2015, in 2005-2006 he was Member of the National Expert List for Evaluation of Research (CIVR.), in 2012 of the Italian National Assessment of Research (VQR). He has participated 35 national and international research projects, 15 times as principal investigator. Coordinator of an Italian PRIN Project (Research Projects of National Significance). In charge for 15 years of 5 Socrates/Erasmus student exchanges across Europe. Coordinator of the FP7-PEOPLE 2012 ITN project HYTECH (2013-2016).